An exciting new approach

Horticultural composts and hard landscaping products all on the one delivery, better for your business, better for our environment.

From quality hard landscaping and superb decorative stone products to rich compost and graded top soil, you can now order a complete range of market-leading products from a single trusted supplier.

This wide spectrum of highly decorative hard landscaping products, complimented by an established range of horticultural composts provides a wealth of choice and ordering flexibility.

All at a truly competitive price that'll delight your customers and grow your bottom line.

Innovative, eye catching packaging, marketed by modern and informative, easily installed Point of Sale, provides maximum sales potential.

The story so far...

As one of the UK's leading names in decorative aggregates, Long Rake Spar, established in 1867, has over 140 years experience and a wealth of know-how within the builders merchant sector.

Now, they have joined forces with Meadow View Stone – a specialist supplier of quality landscaping products to garden centres. Meadow View's impressive product range, industry knowledge and insistence upon quality and service has seen the company develop rapidly into a respected retail supplier.

Building on success

With the backing of Meadow View Stone Long Rake Spar is now set to build on its reputation for quality and value by offering a dramatically enhanced range of premium products at the most competitive prices.

Completing the product offering

Better still, Long Rake Spar Group are now proud to announce they have become the sole UK distributor of all Richmoor Horticultural products.

Along with an entire spectrum of quality decorative and horticultural products, we can now offer an exclusive selection of brand new product lines, offering you a wealth of choice and marketing support.
